Skipper O'Hara of the sloop shouted a warning to the pilot on the steamer, but he evidently was not heard, as the large ship came rapidly on, heading directly for the sloop. Every effort was made by those on the smaller craft to get out of the way, but the Chatham struck the sloop full in the stern, completely wrecking her. Five men jumped overboard from the sloop, and one, Charles S. Willis of Dorchester, immediately sank and was drowned. The rest were picked up by the yacht Creedmoor. The Chatham stopped for a moment and then proceeded without offering assistance.

He stated, however, that he had not fixed upon D. Lowber Smith as his deputy or any other man.

Wednesday evening Porter held a seance, at which he told a conversation that took place the Sunday before between Petteplace and his wife, and which no other party except the son heard. Afterward Porter, with a number of others, took lanterns and proceeded into the woods a distance, when Porter gave minute directions as to where the body might be found. A FEARFUL EXPLOSION.

A Powder Magazine in Chicago Struck by Lightning.

Several Persons Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured.

The Shock of the Explosion Felt Miles Away.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Lightning struck Laflin & Rand Powder Co's magazine about 9.15 this evening, causing an explosion which killed one person, fatally injuring four, painfully injuring a number of others, and destroyed about $75,000 worth of property. The scene of the disaster is about two miles from the extreme southwestern edge of the city. For half a mile around the magazine the scene now is one of desolation and destruction and not a building within a mile of the magazine escaped damage. The magazine was 70x40, of brick, with a slate roof. Heavy stones are scattered in the neighboring fields, trees are stripped of their foliage, fences overthrown and telegraph wires snapped. The whole of Cook county was shaken by the shocks. Hundreds of panes of glass, some distance away were broken. The shock caved in two magazines of the Oriental Powder Co. near by, and also those belonging to the Warren Powder Co., Hazard Dupont Co.'s, and Ferrett Dynamite Company. The bodies of the killed and some of the injured were fearfully mutilated. The dead and fatally injured are: Miss Carrie Abernworth, killed instantly; Peter Kean, farmer, ribs broken and fearfully burned, John Guhl, teamster, ribs broken, right leg broken in two places, internal wounds; Mrs. Guhl, skull crushed; Eliza Devine, right leg crushed to jelly and breast transfixed by strip of glass. When the first shock of the magazine explosion was received the Jesuit Society of the Holy Family, at 128th street and Blue Island Avenue, five miles distant, 10 o'clock mass was going on in the basement of the building. The building shook and seemed about to fall. A panic ensued and everybody rushed for the street. Women fainted and many were trampled, but very few were badly hurt, although a vast number received serious bruises. The exploded magazine contained, it is estimated, 140,000 pounds of powder and half as much dynamite. In the neighboring ten storehouses there were 500,000 pounds of dynamite and twice as much powder. Not one of the buildings had lightning rods or conductors.

THE FAILED BOSTON FIRMS.

The Result of the Investigation of the Creditors.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—Since the suspension of P. E. Williams, lumber, No. 7 Kilby street, Russell, Brown & Co., lumber, No. 13 Doane street; Allen & Noble, hardware, No. 127 Washington street; Gerrish & O'Brien, furniture, No. 175 Blackstone street; L. E. Pierce, manufacturer of tables, No. 101 North street; T. F. Brown & Co., furniture, No. 17 Merrimack street; Walter F. Balch, lumber, No. 24½ Central street; J. J. Hogan & Co., furniture, Cambridgeport, and the Lewiston Steam Mills of Lewiston, Me., a committee of creditors have been working upon their affairs and have found it a difficult matter to arrive at any definite results on account of the complicated which the books were kept. By some of the firms notes had been given and discounted without any record having been kept. One firm would want a certain money and would make a note and get it endorsed by another firm in the ring or, perhaps, by twos, and then they would divide the proceeds. One firm, it is said, has made disbursements and interest over $50,000 during the past year. This, together with being compelled to sacrifice on stock to raise money to meet notes coming due, shows in what manner some of it has been used. A meeting of some of the largest creditors was held and it was decided that the only solution of the difficulties was insolvency proceeding and three firms have filed petitions and others will when the papers are ready. Russell, Sheen & Co's liabilities, as far as known, are $566,747, of which $285,487.18 is direct and the remaining $281,259 is contingent (in the shape of endorsements). Of the direct liabilities, $205,547 is to P. F. Williams, another of the failed firms. There will probably be more liabilities when the affairs of the mill owned by the firm at New River, Tenn., are investigated. The assets of Williams' liabilities are estimated at about $300,000. The assets are estimated at $70,000. Allen & Noble's direct liabilities are not thought to be large, their indebtedness being in the shape of endorsements, and will probably amount to $300,000; their assets are about $200,000. Gerrish & O'Brien have liabilities of $127,355. Their assets are represented to be $30,000, and consists of stock, accounts, and machinery estimated to be worth about $5,000. The liabilities are as filed, $76,664. L. E. Pierce's liabilities are $60,000, and nominal assets $20,000. The Lewiston Steam Mills Co's are $247,863, $39,451 secured, $3,365 preferred, $188,631 direct, and $59,232 contingent. The assets consists of real estate and mill privileges, heavily mortgaged, stock $43,975, accounts $11,990. W. H. Balch's liabilities are almost wholly to the failed firms and the assets are very small. J. J. Hogan and J. J. Hogan & Co., has died since the failure, complicating the matter still further. Meetings of the creditors of nearly all the above firms will be held September 9th.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Alaskan Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Treasury Department has received from Captain Abbey of the revenue steamer Corwin a full report of the seizure of three British vessels while catching seals in Alaskan waters. He had previously seized the American vessel San Diego and taken arms and ammunition from three others, all of which were engaged in seal fishing. The seizure was made for violation of the executive order of July 3, 1875. Captain Abbey says that as it was impracticable for him to hold all the prisoners on board the Corwin, he released a portion of the rank and file, sending 19 to San Francisco. He was then to fit out the seized schooner San Diego and order her to Sitka for delivery to the United States Marshal, while the remainder of the crew and twenty Indians from the other vessels, about 35 in all. The remaining masters and mates he would retain on board the Corwin to hold as principals until he could reach Sitka and deliver them in charge of the court.

The New York Strike.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—At the Belt line stables in New York this morning the old hands made a common attack upon the new men who had been employed during the tie up, and five of the latter were beaten so badly that they had to be taken to the hospital. Captain Killed and his policemen were in charge at the stables when the old hands went to work. A big disturbance occurred early in one of the gangways leading up from the stables to the upper loft. A squad of policemen rushed up and came upon a knot of men kicking and punching each other in a desperate manner. The night gang of "scabs," that had been at work up stairs in going down had met the striking old hands returning to work and a fight had ensued. It was soon conducted with great vigor, and blood was running freely when the police clubs got at work and scattered the fighters. Four of the "scabs" were severely beaten. They were some of a cargo of men sent on from Washington yesterday, to take the strikers' places. They were all badly bruised and had ugly cuts on their heads and faces. The strikers were arrested and locked up, charged with assault. The "scabs" that were the cause of the discontent were quietly sent away, and at 11 Superintendent Harris telegraphed that police protection was no longer needed. The police were withdrawn at noon.

An Unlucky Bark.

COHASSETT, Mass., Aug. 29.—During a dense fog this forenoon the large bark, Joseph A. Ropes of New York, Capt. Seabury, 101 days from Madagascar, with a cargo of hides consigned to Boston parties ran ashore on "Grampoose" at flood tide and was left high and dry on the rocks. The tug Confidence is in attendance and as the vessel is uninjured and lying easy she is expected to come off with the next tide. The captain reports the loss of a seaman and all hands were busy for 48 hours on the voyage. Afterward Porter, with a number of others, took lanterns and proceeded into the woods a distance, when Porter gave minute directions as to where the body might be found. The body was found precisely as indicated by Porter.

President Cleveland's Vacation.

SARANAC INN, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Joseph A. Reall, president of the American Agricultural and Dairy Association, called upon President Cleveland today to invite him to attend the national agricultural convention, which meets in Philadelphia, Sept. 14th. Mr. Reall assured the President that the farmers were well pleased with his action in signing the oleomargarine bill. The President expressed the fullest sympathy with the agricultural interests of the country, but could give Mr. Reall no encouragement that the invitation would be accepted as his present plans for his vacation will occupy his time until far into September. The season for hunting deer is at hand and it is not unlikely that the President and some of his friends will make up a party this week to engage in this sport. The President's party spent much of the day on the piazzas of their log cabin trying to keep cool, the heat being almost insufferable.

ANOTHER CRANK.

Lawrence M. Donovan Leaps from Brooklyn Bridge to the River.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—At 5.50 this morning, Lawrence M. Donovan, a pressman in the Police Gazette office, jumped from the East River bridge into the river. He had jumped from High bridge twice, and, being successful, thought that the big bridge jump would not be any more dangerous. All arrangements were made and the time and date set. Only four persons until the 27th inst knew about the affair, until Donovan, with his backer, called on Richard K. Fox and stated that he was going to jump from the bridge. Mr. Fox advised him not to do so, but arrangements were completed, a boat was engaged, and Donovan procured shoes and other articles for the feat.

Last night, at 11 o'clock, he came to the Gazette office and slept with Tom Leonard made pads for his legs and armpits. At 5.10 Leonard awoke him, and Mrs. Leonard made him a cup of coffee. He drank it, and with a confidential air left to find the wagon that was to take him on the bridge. Both Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, the janitor and janitress of the building begged him not to jump, but he refused to listen to them. He wore a red flannel shirt, white drawers, well padded, and blue-topped vase ball shoes, with zinc in the soles.

He left the office in an express wagon, accompanied by the driver only, at 5.30. He passed the bridge policeman at the New York entrance without exciting suspicion, and on reaching the centre of the bridge he sprang from the wagon and lade the driver, his friend, good bye. In an instant he climbed over the cable and then lowered himself down, waved his hand and jumped. His body kept an erect position until within forty feet of the water when his body inclined forward and his legs, which had been kept closed during his descent, spread, and he quivered as he struck the water and went into the depths like a shot from a gun. Instantly he came to the surface, but the boat which had been engaged to pick him up, and which contained four men stripped ready to save him, was not on hand. The crowds that had gathered on the docks supposed when Donovan's legs opened and he quivered, that he was dead, but when he came to the surface he swam like a fish until the boat rowed toward him and he was taken from the water.

A man on the Brooklyn side who saw Donovan drop from the bridge informed the police and they instantly telephoned to the officers on the New York side. An alarm was sent out, and the police from the Oak street station hastened to the river and arrested Donovan, who was taken to the fourth precinct station.

Donovan jumped nearer the centre of the bridge than where Sullivan dropped.

Donovan was born in this city, at No. 55 Frankfort street. He stands 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighs 160 pounds, and is 24 years of age. He was taken before Judge Duffy at the Tombs by the bridge policeman at 9.30 o'clock, and charged with attempting suicide. The particulars of Donovan's jump were made known to the justice, and he administered a sharp rebuke to him.

"It is not bravery to do such a thing," said the indignant judge, "it is foolhardiness and I want it stopped." Justice Duffy then adjourned the case until 2 o'clock today, when the officer who saw Donovan jump on the rail will be present. Donovan will be taken back to the Oak street police station.

Crop Reports.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The Farmer's Review will print the following crop summary this week: Half the reports from Illinois and belt indicate an improvement in outlook for the crop in Ohio, Indiana and Minnesota, in all of which States there is present promise of a fair average crop. In Belmont, Durke, Logan, Lucas and Montgomery counties, in Ohio, the yield promises to equal that of any former year, while the remaining counties indicate a yield ranging from 50 to 95 per cent. In Fayette, Henry, Jay, Lagrange, Morgan, Montgomery and Pike counties, of Indiana, more than a usually large yield is indicated. The remaining counties reporting in this week indicate an average yield of from 50 to 80 per cent. In Carver, Meeker, Ramsay, St. Louis, Sherburne and Ward counties, Minnesota, the yield is indicated. The remaining counties reporting this week promise 50 to 80 per cent. of an average. Hary and Saginaw counties, Michigan, promise a full yield. Montcalm county has the promise of only 45 per cent. of an average, and other counties range from 45 to 85 per cent. of an average. In Hamilton county, Nebraska, the outlook is favorable for a full yield, while Buffalo, Harlan and Webster counties indicate a fair yield. In Douglas, Gage, Johnson and Richardson counties the outlook is far less than one half the usual yield. Ellis county, Kansas, shows a full average, while Cherokee, Butler and Lyons counties promise only 40 to 50 percent. of an average. In Bulgaria Province one counties reporting this week give promise of an average yield. In Illinois there is a general improvement of 5 to 10 per cent, but the general average for the State remains low. The general average is low in all Iowa counties, running from 80 to 90 per cent. The average in Missouri ranges from 30 to 65 per cent. It does not promise more than the average yield. In Dakota the yield of wheat is averaging from 12 to 18 bushels, and grain is grading well. In Minnesota the yield of wheat ranges from 8 to 24 bushels, rating very irregular. In many counties in Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, the ground is reported too dry too permit of fall plowing. The effects of the drouth are also still seriously felt, owing to the dryness of the pastures. Unless relief by rain comes shortly, stock will go in for the winter in poor condition. Fruits are reported as abundant in all Western States, while matching seals in Alaskan waters. He had previously seized the American vessel San Diego and taken arms and ammunition from three others, all of which were engaged in seal fishing. The seizure was made for violation of the executive order of July 3, 1875. Captain Abbey says that as it was impracticable for him to hold all the prisoners on board the Corwin, he released a portion of the rank and file, sending 19 to San Francisco. He was then to fit out the seized schooner San Diego and order her to Sitka for delivery to the United States Marshal, while the remainder of the crew and twenty Indians from the other vessels, about 35 in all. The remaining masters and mates he would retain on board the Corwin to hold as principals until he could reach Sitka and deliver them in charge of the court.

Sad Accident to a Yachting Party.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The little sloop yacht Edith, having on board a party of five young men, was becalmed in the Narrows near Gallo apes Island this afternoon, when the steamer Chatham of the Baltimore line came into the channel. Skipper O'Hara of the sloop shouted a warning to the pilot on the steamer, but he evidently was not heard, as the large ship came rapidly on, heading directly for the sloop. Every effort was made by those on the smaller craft to get out of the way, but the Chatham struck the sloop full in the stern, completely wrecking her. Five men jumped overboard from the sloop, and one, Charles S. Willis of Dorchester, immediately sank and was drowned. The rest were picked up by the yacht Creedmoor. The Chatham stopped for a moment and then proceeded without offering assistance.

General Newton Succeeds Squire.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—General Newton went to the office of Mayor Grace in Hanover Square this afternoon and was sworn in by the Mayor as Commissioner of Public Works. It had been announced that the ceremony would take place until Monday, owing to the fact that no reply had been had from the Secretary of War approving General Newton's retirement, but at almost the last moment the desired letter was received from Secretary Endicott. The original plan was not carried out. General Newton declined to discuss his position or future policy until better acquainted with the duties of his office. He stated, however, that he had not fixed upon D. Lowber Smith as his deputy or any other man.

Spirits Found the Body.

BURRILLVILLE, R. I., Aug. 29.—The finding of the remains of Harris Petteplace of Burrillville, R. I., who disappeared Sunday and was discovered Thursday with his head partially blown off, is said to have been due to a Spiritualist named Porter, employed as a farm hand on the place of Fayette Bartlett. Wednesday evening Porter held a seance, at which he told a conversation that took place the Sunday before between Petteplace and his wife, and which no other party except the son heard. Afterward Porter, with a number of others, took lanterns and proceeded into the woods a distance, when Porter gave minute directions as to where the body might be found. The body was found precisely as indicated by Porter.

Vessel Damaged and Men Lost.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 28.—While entering the harbor this morning the steamer Nova Scotia ran into the schooner Bertha, bound from Port Medway for Halifax and broke the latter's main boom, davits and boat and sprang her mainmast. She reached port safely. The schooner Ocean Belle, which has arrived from the Grand Banks, reports the loss of two men while tending their trawls. A heavy sea was running and it is supposed that their dory was upset. She belonged in Nova Scotia.

An Earthquake in Greece.

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 28.—Greece has again been visited by earthquakes which have been most disastrous in Morea, and in which the loss of life, according to the best information, reaches the enormous figure of 300. The village of Ryrgo and town of Phylatria both situated on the western coast of the Morea peninsula, were the chief sufferers, and these furnish, it is believed, all that have perished. In Ryrgo not a house is left standing, while Phylatria is almost swept from the face of the globe. Shocks were experienced throughout the whole of Greece, in a greater or less degree. In the town of Zante every house was damaged and the inhabitants fled in terror to the open country. Several towns in Italy were also visited by earthquakes but not to any serious extent. Naples, Brindisi, Foggia and Taran, felt the shock severely, Violent shocks of earthquake have also been experienced in Alexandria and other parts of Egypt, causing terror among the natives, but so far as known doing no serious damage.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A despatch from Naples says that a second earthquake shock has occurred there. The population were crowding the streets and many families were fleeing from the city. There have been two eruptions of Vesuvius and the volcano is still very active. An earthquake shock was experienced at Athens at midnight. Advices from Zanti say that excessive heat, dead calms and unusually high tides forewarned the inhabitants. The earthquake centre appears to be in the sea at a point 30 miles South of Zanti. The earthquake is supposed to be of volcanic origin. The cables and telegraph wires are broken and no news has been had from the interior. The cathedral at Pirgo was destroyed.

The Argus has gone to abusing the Rev. Mr. LeLacheur because he is unwilling to hitch up along with the free rum Democracy. It thinks he hasn't any mind. Why doesn't the Argus publish his reply to Gen. Dow and let its readers judge whether he has a mind or not?

The Democrats admit that their sole reliance in this campaign is on the Third Party. They have got no speakers of note in the field and are doing nothing except to send around Mr. Clifford's Bangor speech and a batch of New Age slanders. They are trusting to St. John—and no doubt paying his bills.

A submarine boat, resembling in its performances the famous craft constructed by Jules Verne's imagination, has made a successful trip in New York waters. The boat disappeared beneath the water at the will of the pilot and appeared again a mile distant to the wonder of spectators on the shore and the amazement of the mariners on less capable craft. The new boat has not been built for excursion purposes; but for affixing torpedoes to the sides of men of war. For such work the inventor claims that it will be a great success; and has ventured to give the name of Peacemaker to the destructive contrivance.

The Fairfield Journal says that the lumbermen of that town will cut upwards of twenty-five million feet of lumber the coming winter. Before this lumber has finally left the State as boards and beams its manufacturer will have given employment to hundreds of laborers along the Kennebec and left money and thrift behind it. This is better than it could be under the plan which Mr. Morrison proposed and the Democrats of this State praise so highly,—the plan which would let free lumber from Canada drive the home product out of the market, and leave the lumber yards of Fairfield to thistles and weeds.

The proneness of people to believe on insufficient evidence some things which their judgment tell them must be false has just been illustrated by a very peculiar case in Cambridge, Mass. Last week a woman who lives in that place affirmed that she had vomited a live bat, and in evidence she showed the animal to several physicians. The story she told is interesting. About seven years ago, while living in another town, she went out to a pump in the yard one dark night and drank some water from a dipper. She soon began to feel a pain in her side, and it increased during the night and continued for a fortnight. She consulted several doctors, but obtained no relief, and the pain has continued at frequent intervals during the succeeding years. Last Monday night the pain became very severe, but relief came by vomiting. When daylight came a bat was revealed, healthy and flapping, but unable to escape. The woman had no doubt that she had discovered the animal she had kept her in misery for seven years; and expressed great relief that the "scratchings" of the bat at the walls of her stomach were over.

When the story became noised around there was great wonder in Cambridge at the adventures of the bat, which evidently had first lived in a well, then been pumped into a dipper, and finally swallowed for a sojourn of seven years in a human being's stomach. Finally the subject was brought to the attention of one of the savants of Harvard College, who is credited with some knowledge of bats of this variety. He stoutly declared that it was an impossibility for a lung-breathing animal like a bat to live in a person's stomach; and said that there is no doubt that the bat in question came into the woman's room through a window on the night of the woman's sickness in time to figure in the subsequent performance. But the woman herself and some of her neighbors will have none of the learned professor's theories, and will doubtless continue to believe in the extraordinary ability of the bat to adapt himself to circumstances.

This incident has suggested to the Boston Transcript a very interesting experience of Professor Jeffries Wyman, the distinguished comparative anatomist. Professor Wyman, on entering the office of his friend, Dr. Augustus A. Gould, an eminent Boston physician, was asked his opinion about a curious case. His friend, a clergyman, had just brought in an animal which he said a worthy parishioner of his, a man of unimpeachable veracity, after some years of suffering in his stomach, had recently vomited, while sitting on a rock in an open field. The animal tried to escape, but was caught. Professor Wyman at once recognized it as a young black snake, which could not have lived years in the man's stomach and then been vomited. The clergyman indignantly denied that his worthy parishioner could be mistaken or would deceive, and wanted to argue the case. The professor said he would not waste time in dispute, and with his penknife immediately opened the reptile's stomach and turned out some grasshoppers, beetles and other remnants of the usual food of such animals. He said to the clergyman, "It seems that your parishioner has a liking for a peculiar kind of diet."

REV. MR. LE LACHEUR'S FIGURES.

At the Richmond camp ground Rev. Mr. Le Lacheur's said:

At the September term, 1885, there were 311 cases for violation of the liquor law, 63 other crime, fifteen liquor cases nol prossed and 5 other crimes nol prossed. At the January term, 1886, 101 liquor cases, 28 other crimes, 15 liquor cases nol prossed, and four other crimes nol prossed. At the May term, 1886, 90 liquor cases, 20 other crimes, 25 liquor cases nol prossed and two other crimes nol prossed. Total for the three terms, 502 liquor cases, 55 nol prossed; 111 other crimes, 11 nol prossed.

A correspondent of the Argus alleges that the figures are wrong. Mr. Dennett, the clerk of the courts, makes the following statement:

I, A. A. Dennett, Clerk of the Superior Court within and for the County of Cumberland and State of Maine hereby certify that there were upon the docket of said court at the close of the September term, thereof, A. D. 1885, three hundred and eleven cases for violation of the liquor law, so called, including cases of nuisance, search and seizure, single sale, illegal transportation, intoxication and common drunkard, and sixty-three cases of other crimes. At this term fourteen cases for violation of the liquor law were disposed of by "nol pros." and five cases for other crimes were disposed of in like manner.

At the January term A. D., 1886, there were entered one hundred and one cases for violation of liquor law and twenty-eight cases for other crimes.

At this term fifteen cases for violation of liquor law were "nol prossed" and five cases for other crimes.

At the May term A. D. 1886, there were entered ninety cases for violation of liquor law and twenty cases for other crimes. At this term, twenty-five cases for violation of liquor law were "nol prossed" and two cases for other crimes.

Dated at Portland, this twenty-eigth day of August, A. D. 1886.

A. A. DENNETT, Clerk.

It will be seen that the only errors in Mr. Le Lacheur's statement were the overstating by one of the number of liquor cases nol prossed at the September term, 1885, and the under-stating by one the number of cases of other crimes nol prossed at the January term, 1886. Each of these errors make against Mr. Le Lacheur's side of the case.

THE LIFE OF A CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE.

The Washington branch of the Literary Bureau has just produced a biography of the Democratic candidate for Congress in the First district of Maine which is published in The National View of Washington. A large number of copies have been sent into this district for distribution. With the election of President Cleveland "there welled out" says the biographer "from the hearts of the party of the people in Maine, as comes out in spring time the healing balsam from her whispering, fragrant pines, a settled determination to win back to the Democracy and to the people many fair sections of that blueberry-bearing State." It is quite evident that the biographer has been a close student of Mr. Clifford's speeches and to a considerable extent has caught his style. Mr. Clifford would, however, not have spoken of the State in which he is a candidate for Congress as a "blueberry-bearing State." He would not have belittled it in that way. He should have been allowed to see the proof. After the above exordium the biographer proceeds in this fashion:

Under such an inspiration as this it was that the sterling Democrats of the First Congressional District summoned the handsome and magnetic Harry Clifford—as his troops of warm friends will insist upon calling the Hon. Wm. H. Clifford of Portland—to take up their long unhonored standard—unhonored by triumph—and bear it on to victory. In this nomination have Mr. Clifford's sagacious constituents given Mr. Reed's faithful followers the strongest possible assurance that the Republicans will have the hardest kind of work before them to read their title clear to the first district's seat in Congress, after the ides of next November—the Congressional election occuring in September.

Mr. William Henry Clifford is a native of York county, Maine, and is now about forty years of age. When his father, the late Justice Clifford, was sent to represent our government in the halls of the Montezumas, young Harry accompanied him. It is fortunate, perhaps, that he did so, as the grown man may be the better able, recalling the impressions made upon the mind of the bright boy to take up understandingly the question of our relations with the more or less disturbed Republic beyond the Rio Grande—a question with which Congress may soon have to grapple in real earnestness.

The reports from the schools in which young Clifford received his ante-collegiate education—schools in which the growth and health of mind and body were given due and proportionate attention—show that he excelled both in his studies and an athlete. He was graduated at Dartmouth at the early age of 18 years. A deal of sterling manhood was developed in those earlier days at Dartmouth under the general jurisdiction of President Lord. The writer of this recalls, as eye-witness, many a foot-ball game on the common, compared with which the most hotly-contested games of latter-day base ball are tame and spiritless. And here, also, we are happy to believe the attainments and accomplishments of early life may serve the future Congressman well. Muscle hath its victories in the lobby no less renowned than war on other fields, sometimes.

Mr. Clifford took up the study of law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced his profession for some years in Boston, but finally returned to his native State and settled in Portland. In the trial of patent causes he has won the foremost rank, has but few equals and no superior in the country. He took a turn in Congressional politics in 1874, just to get his hand in, accepting the Democratic nomination for Congress in the first district, overwhelmingly Republican. The fight he made against such paralyzing odds attracted much attention for the brilliancy and vigor with which it was pushed, and easily made him first choice of the Democrats of the first district before the last nominating convention.

Hon. William Henry Clifford is an ardent advocate of pure Jeffersonian Democracy, principles which were so grandly illustrated in the life of his lamented father. He is possessed of abundant means, but unlike many in whom wealth seems to wither manhood, and sere as with a hot iron the chords of human fellowship, Mr. Clifford is keenly alive to the wants of the toiling masses, has quick sympathy with the deserving unfortunate, and it goes without saying it that monopoly will have no more zealous, vigorous and untiring antagonist in Congress, than Mr. Clifford from the First District in Maine.

Hon. William H. Clifford was chairman of the Democratic State Convention held in Bangor on the 2nd of June last, and his address on that occasion was a mosaic of spoken thoughts, a genuine masterpiece in eloquence. By his tact, bearing and address on that occasion he but widened and deepened the fame he had already won on the hustings as a clear thinker, ready debater, and strong parliamentarian and leader.

According to this biographer, Mr. Clifford's leading recommendations for Congress are familiarity with the language and people of Mexico and muscle. Mr. Clifford's father went to Mexico in 1848 and returned in 1849. If Mr. Clifford is now about forty years of age, when he went to Mexico with his father he must have been about two years old. We do not know how precocious a child Mr. Clifford was, but we very much doubt if the impressions he received when two years of age will enable him "to take up understandingly the question of our relations with the Republic beyond the Rio Grande." We have no hesitation in conceding to him all that is claimed for him in the muscular line.

THE KIND OF REFORM IN SOUTH CAROLINA.
Orangeburg, (S. C.) Times.

The News and Courier may blow just as much as it pleases about civil service in South Carolina being popular and all that, but we will wager a hat that four-fifths of the Democrats of the State, on a direct vote, would be in favor of President Cleveland's turning the last Republican out of office and filling his place with a good Democrat. That is the kind of a civil service reform we want, and the quicker we get it the better.

BRIDGTON AND HARRISON,
COMMENCING WEDNESDAY, AUG. 25th,

Passing by the Images where Capt. Frye made his leap for life to escape the Indians, Hawthorne Cave, Indian Pulpit, the boyhood haunt of Nathaniel Hawthorne; a big Indian in costume will appear on the high cliff and fire a salute and give the Indian War-hoop as the steamer passes on to Songo River, whose beauties have been sung by the immortal Longfellow.

"Nowhere such a devious stream,
Save in fancy or in dream;
Winding slow through bush and brake,
Links together lake and lake."

Two miles as the bird flies, six miles by steamer, making twenty-seven turns—in fact the most crooked river ever navigated by steamboat. Passing through Songo Lock, up the picturesque Bay of Naples, and the narrow beautiful Long Lake to Bridgton and Harrison.

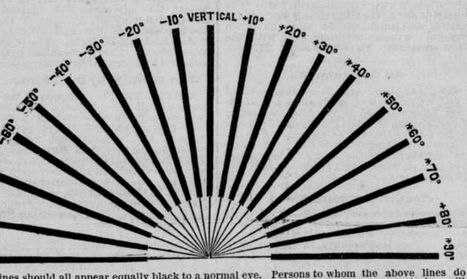
SPECTACLES.
EYE GLASSES.

We have a large assortment and are prepared to adjust the same upon scientific principles. We use NACHET'S TRIAL CASE, together with the OPTHALMOSCOPIC TEST LENSE, combining the best methods known for detecting all optical defects of the eye and determining the lenses needed for their correction.



These lines should all appear equally black to a normal eye. Persons to whom the above lines do not appear equally black at five or ten feet, have a visual imperfection which common spectacles will not improve. They must have special lenses ground to correct the deformity of the corneas. This defect is called ASTIGMATISM.

WIT AND WISDOM.

"Who is dat man Talmage we hear so much about?" asked Flatfoot Jones.

"Why, don't you know?" said his companion. "He am de great Brooklyn preacher.

"A preacher?" exclaimed Jones, "I thought he was a comic lecturer."

"What made you think dat?"

"Kase dey calls him de wit, Talmage."

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

Oh, dear," sighed Widow Brown, "if John had only made a will there wouldn't be all this trouble about the property."

"Do the lawyers bother you?"

"Bother me! They almost worry me to death! I declare, I sometimes wish that John had not died!"

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, injure the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin, etc, Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose.

Stranger (at watering place resort)—What is that enormous building across the way?

Guide—that's a hotel.

Stranger—And that large, handsome brick structure?

Guide—That's the club house, sir.

Stranger—I see. Well, what's that long, odd-looking building behind the enclosure?

Guide—The grand stand at the race course.

Stranger—Oh, yes. It's all very beautiful, but I should think the authorities would remove that unsightly little frame building adjoining the hotel away from the main thoroughfare. It mars the general effect. What is it? Some sort of a hen house?

Guide—No, sir. That's a church.

Giddy young girl—I do so love Atlantic City, don't you?

Light young man—Yaas.

So much life, excitement and fun. It's perfect, isn't it?

Yaas, all but one thing.

One thing? Oh, my? What is it you don't like?

The ocean. If that was away I'd like the seashore much better.

Advice to Mothers.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

From A. H. S. Davis, formerly editor of "Chronicle," Farmington, Me.

"I have used your Adamson's Botanic Balsam, and unhesitatingly pronounce it superior to any medicine of the kind I ever saw. It is simply invaluable as a household remedy for coughs, colds, and sore throats. I would not be without it."

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, &c., can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

A wish was expressed that Mr. Reed would permit his speech to be published in full and distributed among the citizens of Saccarappa as the speech was considered one of the best ever made by him.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DEERING.

Operations for building the railroad bridge over Pitt street have commenced by filling up a grade.

A curiosity can be seen in the garden of Mr. T. Frank Jones in the shape of a lily of the "golden brand" species. Two stalks came up from one bulb, and have grown up four feet high as twins, then separated and upon the two heads can be counted one hundred buds, soon to develope themselves into beautiful flowers—a freak seldom seen.

When the Water Company were introducing their pipes through Clark street, the force of a blast sent a large rock entirely through the wall of the residence of Rev. Mr. Smith. Fortunately no one was injured. The Water Company has completed laying its pipe through Spring street, making a connection at the junction of Forest avenue, Woodfords and Deering streets. The final connecting link between Portland and Deering was completed Saturday, in the shape of a 12-inch pipe on Green street.

CAPE ELIZABETH.

An emigration party is now being talked up to leave in October, for Sinatoa, Mexico. BASE BALL.

The New England League.

BROCKTONS, 4; PORTLANDS, 2.

The Portlands were defeated by the Brocktons Saturday afternoon by a score of four to one. The Brocktons made their first run in the opening inning, and from that time failed to score until the ninth. In the fourth the Portlands made two runs, and until the last inning maintained their lead. Then, just as the crowd thought the game about over and a victory for the home club, Galligan in left field didn't catch a fly and the Brocktons scored three more runs before they were retired.

The Portlands began the game loosely, but shook themselves together at the end of the first inning and played a steady game up to the last. Shoeneck played his usual fine game and saved at least three errors by splendid stops. Wheelock's stop of an apparently safe hit also deserves mention. For the Brocktons, Hawes' left handed stop of a wild throw and the fielding of Cudworth and McCarthy were noticeable.

There was an exhibition of ill feeling on the part of the crowd when they ran on to the field after being displeased with some decisions of the umpire. At the end of the game, McCloskey sought refuge in a dressing room to keep out of the way of the disappointed crowd. The score follows:

All Run Down

From the weakening effects of warm weather, by hard work, or from a long illness, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have never tried this peculiar medicine, do now. It will give you strength and appetite.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me new life, and restored me to my wonted health and strength." WILLIAM H. CLOUGH, Tilton, N. H.

Given Up To Die

"I was completely run down, and was for nearly four years under medical treatment, being given up to die by physicians. My mother urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. At last I consented, and I have never taken any thing which helped me as much as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which restored me to health and vigor. I have been taking it about four months, and am now a different being. I can work all day with very little fatigue. I recommend it to any one whose system is prostrated." NORA NONLE, Peoria, Ill.

A Good Appetite

"When I bought Hood's Sarsaparilla I made a good investment of one dollar in medicine for the first time. It has driven off rheumatism and improved my appetite so much that my boarding mistress says I must keep it locked up or she will be obliged to raise my board with every other boarder that takes Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS BURRELL, 139 Tillary Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"We all like Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is so strengthening." LIZZIE BALFOUR, Auburn, R. I.
